

MUNICIPAL COURT.

The Bootmakers' case—continued.—Mr Rantoul closed his argument a few minutes before five, yesterday afternoon, in behalf of the defendants. As a review of the English laws respecting the working classes, it was one of the most instructive arguments ever made in Boston.

For the purpose of cutting off the introduction of further testimony on the part of the defence, Mr Parker, County Attorney, made a few remarks by way of introduction to his closing argument, and then, the jury having intimated that they were in favor of an adjournment, the Court rose—to meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

From Liberia.—We have this morning received, (says the N. Y. Com. Advertiser of Tuesday,) letters and papers from Monrovia to the 5th of September inclusive. A letter from an esteemed friend belonging to the Methodist mission, informs us that the mission was in a very prosperous condition.

The examination of the pupils of the Seminary of the Methodist Episcopal Church occupied three days, and these were days of great interest to the friends of that important institution.

We copy the following from the paper of the 4th of September:

Singular trial.—The collector of the customs of the port of Monrovia, as directed by his Excellency, the Governor, has sued the superintendent of the Li-
